W. P. WALTON.

THE story telegraphed the Louisville Times from Barbourville that the republicans of the 11th district are dissatisfied with Col. W. O. Bradley's nomination for governor is only the baseless figment of a correspondent's distorted imagination. Col. Bradley has a few enemies among the would-be leaders of his party, who imagine that he is in their way, but the rank and file swear by the lovable colonel and will vote for him to a man. Such statements as the one published are puerile and can do the colonel no harm. We are not going to down him take hard, honest and unceasing work to accomplish that result in the present divided condition of the democratic hosts.

SAM J. ROBERTS, of the Lexington Leader, who is as much like Goy. Mc-Kinley as he is like himself, has written him a letter saying that the republicans are going to carry Kentucky this year and he must fulfill his promise to come over to Macedonia and help them. Sam's jured. a sanguine soul, but he should not mistake sanguineness for success. The republicans may give us a pretty hot fight street. this year, and are depending on fool democrats to continue to make fools of themselves, but they are reckoning with. fearfully burned. out their hosts and Kentucky will still be kept in the middle of the road. Wat Hardin will be our next governor, and by 25,000 majority at least.

THE Stanford INTERIOR JOURNAL, one Ukiah, Cal., for stage robbery. of the very best papers in the State, has been shining with even a brighter light since Editor Walton took unto himself a wife, but we regret to see our brilliant friends,-Elizabethtown News. After tertain the members of the G. A. R. thanking you for such a nicely turned. though undeserve!, compliment, permit representing $30,000,000, have combined us Bro. CANDIDATES for State librarian, which office has been practically conceded to the ladies for years, are getting as "thick as autumnal leaves that strew the brooks in Vallombross." Mrs. Emily Todd Helm, late postmaster of Elizabethtown and widow of the gallant leader of the Orphan Brigade, is the latest entry and we will wager dollars to doughnuts that in the final count the excellent and deserving lady will be there or there-

MR. C. C. McCHORD, railroad commiseioner, could not get the endorsement of a nomination to that office, but he has succeeded by putting up a pitiful plea that the L. & N. downed him, in virtually getting the pomination of State senator in his district, two of the counties having declared for him. If elected Mr. McChord will doubtless use his position and his massive intellect to down the L.

A DEBATING society at Frankfort has settled the question as to whether Gov. McCreary wears a wig by deciding that he does not. It doesn't matter so much what a man wears on his head as what he has in it, and the governor's being unmercifully whipped some disreputable checked full of good, hard common sense he is the idol of an admiring constituen- ter promising the court to do so. cy, which always delights to do him honor.

In the count of preferences by the hold-overs and the candidates already nominated, Gov. McCreary has a good lead for U.S. Senator, which it is hoped, as well as believed, that he will maintain to the end. The governor spoke at Winchester yesterday and counteracted to a great extent the damage done the democratic cause by Senator Blackburn.

YESTERDAY was the day fixed for the respective committees to arrange the series of debates between Gen. Hardin and Col. Bradley. The first will be in Louisville and possibly last two days, if the wind of either does not give out. Both are captivating speakers and on their tour of the State great crowds will gather to hear them orate.

THE Glasgow Times, whose editor is a prophet without honor in his own coantry, predicts that Senator Blackburn will win and that some day, Gov. Brown will the same editor who said that a free silver resolution would go through the State convention like a dose of salts?

The curtain had risen on the third act, and the momentary hush that preceded the resumption of the performance on the stage was broken by a stentorian voice from the rear of the auditorium "Is Dr. Higginspiker in the house?" A tall, heavily whiskered man occupying a front seat rose up.

"If Dr. Higginspiker is in the house," resumed the stentorian voice, "he told me I was to come here and call him out at ten o'clock."

Whereupon Dr. Higginspiker, looking very red, picked up his hat and cane and walked down the aisle amid loud and enthusiastic applause.-Chicago Tribune.

Dressed That Way. I wish I were a man," she sighed. He quickly raised his head. And looked at her in wild surprise: "I thought you were," he said. -Brocklyn Life. nousekeeping at Samoa

Mrs. Robert Louis Stevenson says that housekeeping in Samoa was not so idyllic as it might seem. Her supplies came from New Zealand or Australia once a month, so that if she wanted a bottle of bluing or a bag of flour, for instance, she had to send half across the Pacific to get it. The native diet was all well enough for a few weeks, but as it consisted almost solely of fruit and fish it began to pall on European palates. Housekeeping in this South Sea paradise (of romances) had other drawbacks, particularly in the matter of expense, which was fully six or seven times as great, Mrs. Stevenson says, as living on a corresponding scale in San Francisco. As for society, "there's more of it to the square inch in Samoa than in any other place I know," says Mrs. Stévenson, but it appears to be largely of the living picture kind.

One day shortly afterward it was reported to him, when on shore, that there was a leak in the church. He was accustomed to promptness, and on receipt of the message he went to the church, took a candle and started down into the cellar to find the leak, evidently thinking of the basement as the hull of the good ship Zion. The captain himself tells the story with much apparent enjoyment of its humor. - Youth's Companion.

Dehorn Your Cattle

I will go to any place where there are six or more cattle to behorn. I do the work with the Lightnirg Dehoruer. Can dehorn any cow in three seconds. The knife makes a clean, smooth cut, does not crush nor break the horn, as the clipper does. It is the only humane way to dehorn. Does not punish the animal like the saw, and the wound gets well as quick again as that made by the saw. For further information, call on G. A. PRYTON, Stanford, Kv. See the Lightning Pruning Hook.
